

Pet owners in the GTA can't afford spay/neuter surgery

Is someone doing something about it?

X Municipalities aren't. Animal Services in the GTA spend over $15 million a year to chase, shelter, feed and euthanize thousands of unwanted animals. No municipality is investing in the only proven solution to pet overpopulation: high-volume, lowcost spay/neuter clinics.

X Humane organizations can't. As long as spay/neuter surgery remains unaffordable, the number of unwanted animals surrendered to shelters will only increase, along with shelter costs. Shelters cannot afford to put money into public spay/neuter clinics.

✓ Spaycentral is doing plenty! We have already raised two-thirds of the start-up costs for the GTA's first non-profit, low-cost, high-volume spay/neuter clinic. BUT, we still need $80,000 more before we can open our clinic. That's where you come in...

Your tax-deductible donation will help Spaycentral open this urgently needed clinic. Stop the needless euthanasia of thousands of animals every year!
